JOIN THE MOVEMENT!

There's a revolution happening in joint replacement and Excelsior Orthopaedics is leading the way. Success rates are high, recovery times are low, and in some instances you can get a new knee, hip, or shoulder without ever setting foot in a hospital. In addition to having nationally recognized surgeons and facilities, Excelsior is pioneering an approach that puts patients in charge. And that's revolutionary. Appointments are available just as soon as you are, so there's no reason to wait.

Welcome to University Express, Spring 2017 Edition

Dear Friends,

Researchers often say that lifelong learning is an important part of healthy aging, and provides many cognitive and social benefits. We feel University Express, based on our annual increase in class attendance, is proof that this is true. We encourage you to join us for a class and listen to the lively discussions, insights, and questions as both the instructor and the audience members delve into a topic!

We are delighted that over 2,000 older adults have discovered our classes, and share their excitement about University Express with their friends and family.

As always, we truly appreciate the generosity of our sponsors – BlueCross BlueShield of Western New York, Excelsior Orthopaedics, Wegmans, our host sites, and especially our talented instructors and eager lifelong learners. It is your combined passion and enthusiasm that makes University Express such a vibrant and unique lifelong learning program.

We welcome your feedback and encourage you to keep sending along suggestions for future topics.

American Immigration

From our colonial beginnings to present time, immigration has provoked strong and often contradictory reactions. This class looks at the complex issues presented by immigration with historical context. Why did the native-born welcome or oppose immigration at particular times? Were hopes or fears justified? Do attitudes toward newcomers tell us just as much about the native-born as immigrants themselves? What has changed and what has stayed the same?

Federal Reserve, Interest Rates, and the U.S. Economy

Congress created the Federal Reserve System in 1913 to serve as the central bank of the U.S. and provide our nation with a safer, more flexible, and more stable financial system. With the ability to raise or lower interest rates to slow or stimulate the economy, nothing affects America's finances more than the actions of the Federal Reserve.

Turkey's Entanglement in the Syrian Turmoil

Turkey has been a key NATO ally, bordering Middle Eastern countries and war-torn territories. Although Turkey had a long-standing tradition of avoiding neighboring chaos, it has grown deeply involved in the various fighting parties of Syria and Iraq. Its relations with local groups, as well as regional and global powers, have changed radically and rapidly. This presentation will address the web of shifting alliances in Syrian and Iraqi conflicts and Turkey's role.

HISTORY

The Attica Prison Uprising

The Attica prison uprising was the deadliest revolt in U.S. penal history. What happened, and why? Has it taught us anything about incarceration in the 45 years since it happened? These are some of the questions that will be answered by a reporter who was there the day the prison was retaken and 38 men lost their lives.

Before They Were Poor: Real Life Stories of the Inmates of the Erie County Poorhouse

Records were used to piece together the histories of specific inmates from the Erie County Poorhouse (1829-1926) before and after their time spent in the institution. This research allowed for a better understanding of the circumstances that led to incarceration, or what became of them after their release from the poorhouse. Many of these people inspired the characters depicted in the Orphans and Inmates series.

Human Rights and Human Wrongs

National and international awareness of human rights has risen markedly. The unparalleled abuses during World War II led to a series of UN-sponsored human rights treaties, dealing with topics such as genocide, economic and social rights, racial discrimination, and more. Despite these agreements, major abuses continue. What can individuals, governments, non-governmental organizations, and international groups do to diminish human wrongs?

Mary Todd Lincoln: The Agony and Ecstasy of the "Hellcat"

Mary, the wife of President Abraham Lincoln, was marked by controversy and tragedy. She outlived three of her four sons, as well as her husband. Her contemporaries called her witty, pleasant, cultured, and insightful, but also high-strung, devious, petulant, and sharp-tongued. While First Lady, she was dubbed the "Hellcat" by White House staffers. Was Mary Todd Lincoln mentally ill, or an eccentric with an ahead-of-her-time independent streak?

Of Mice and Men

Of Mice and Men is considered by most critics to be a masterpiece of American literature. We learn the story of two men – their despairs, need for companionship, and the intervention of fate in their lives. Just as the title refers to in Robert Burns’ poem, “The best laid plans of Mice and Men often go astray.” The novel is a tragedy of unfulfilled dreams and the bonds of friendship, which make life bearable.

Shakespeare’s Greatest Speeches: Part 2

One of the best ways to appreciate the genius of Shakespeare is through his great speeches. Within them, his understanding of humanity flows and illustrates his insight into human nature. Join us as we discuss All’s Well That Ends Well, Richard III, Romeo and Juliet, and Julius Caesar. Through these speeches, we can begin to better understand Shakespeare and perhaps, even ourselves.

Talking Animals and Medicine People: The Supernaturalism of the Upstate Iroquois

One of the world’s most impressive storytelling traditions is that of the six New York Iroquois nations. The Longhouse folk populated the hills, woods, and creeks of upstate New York with a virtual zoo of supernatural beings, along with stories of ghosts and witches. These ancient traditions have parallels in 20th and 21st century paranormal reports on their former territory. Join us for a profile of this overlooked tradition.

healthy tip

Falls are a leading cause of injuries among older adults. Most falls occur around the home. Simple safety modifications substantially cut the risk of falling. You can create a safe environment in your home by using rugs with non-slip bottoms or carpeting floors, cleaning clutter, making sure your stairs have handrails, using night lights, and using rubber slip-free mats in the bath tub.
